The fact is, that our anrestrained freedom in the entertainment and trines, religious and political, has imparted to us, as to our English ancestry, an omniverous appetite for knowledge, and a capacity to learn in a few years what cannot be acquired in ages, where all is dull conformity and routine of thought and of action! Thus has it happened in manufactures as in other things; American ingenuity, unrestrained by prejudice or law, has triumphed over difficulties apparently insurmountable! How long, may it be asked, after our first cotton spindle was put in motion before Yankee 'Lov-ells' were sold at a profit in China? So willit be with silk.
